

Dear Parent/Carer

Albion Cadets are running a collection tomorrow for the fund for repairs to The Church of Ascension. In return for a donation of £1, all students can wear their own clothes to school tomorrow, as long as they are appropriate (i.e. not clothing for a party/night out). Staff are also donating of course. The students know my view that own-clothes days can prompt a different attitude to learning – but in this case I trust that they understand why we want to do something to raise money and that they will behave well and conduct themselves appropriately during the day.

Please note that this is also carried out in the full expectation that they return after half term in full correct uniform, without make up, in proper shoes and properly equipped, as outlined in The Albion Way, a reminder of which I have sent out in my end of half term letter.

Let's hope that we can raise enough to give the funds a boost and show our local community how much we value each other.

Many thanks

Yours sincerely

Mrs J Langley
