

23rd October 2026

Dear Parents and Carers,

Thank you for your support for the school once again this Half Term, we realise that this working with you is a partnership for the benefit of your child. At the end of every Half Term, I always send you a letter linking to one area of school life, so you can understand more about what we do and how we do it there in order to best support your child and the school. This Half Term I am focussing on best ways of working in partnership together.

Working in Partnership with Families

At The Albion Academy, we value the strong partnership that exists between home and school. As you know, we actively encourage parents to engage with the school, raise any concerns early, seek support and ask questions. We know that this partnership working has helped to achieve the significant improvement The Albion Academy has undergone in recent years.

Whilst we welcome open dialogue, we do ask that communication between home and school remains respectful, constructive and focused on achieving the very best outcomes for our students. Unfortunately, in some recent instances, the communication we have received from a small minority of parents and carers has not followed the value of respect as set out within our Parent Communications & Engagement Policy, which makes clear that staff should not be subjected to abusive language, threats, aggression, inappropriate comments on social media, or unreasonable behaviour.

We all want the best for all our students, and we understand that parents may feel strongly about matters regarding their children. As a school, we commit to responding in a timely matter, thoroughly and fairly investigating any concerns that are brought to us and working hard to resolve these positively with you.

Equally, we ask that all families to support this work by modelling respect, maintaining high expectations and working in partnership with us – and we recognise that the majority of parents and carers consistently do so.
